1. OVERVIEW

Wodflow started as a single-event MVP built after a competitor's platform broke live mid-event. Since the first demo, the platform has grown into a full Rumble Series management system: every competition can carry its own branding, a real workout/scoresheet builder replaces free-text entry, one centralized Head Judge can score an entire event exactly the way it's really run, real indemnity forms are captured digitally, athletes get their own persistent accounts and portal, teams can invite each other to sign independently, organizers get a proper control center, and the points formula — including the 100-points-with-a-shrinking-gap model — is fully configurable per division. This manual walks through every one of those pieces, screen by screen, using real data from the live platform.

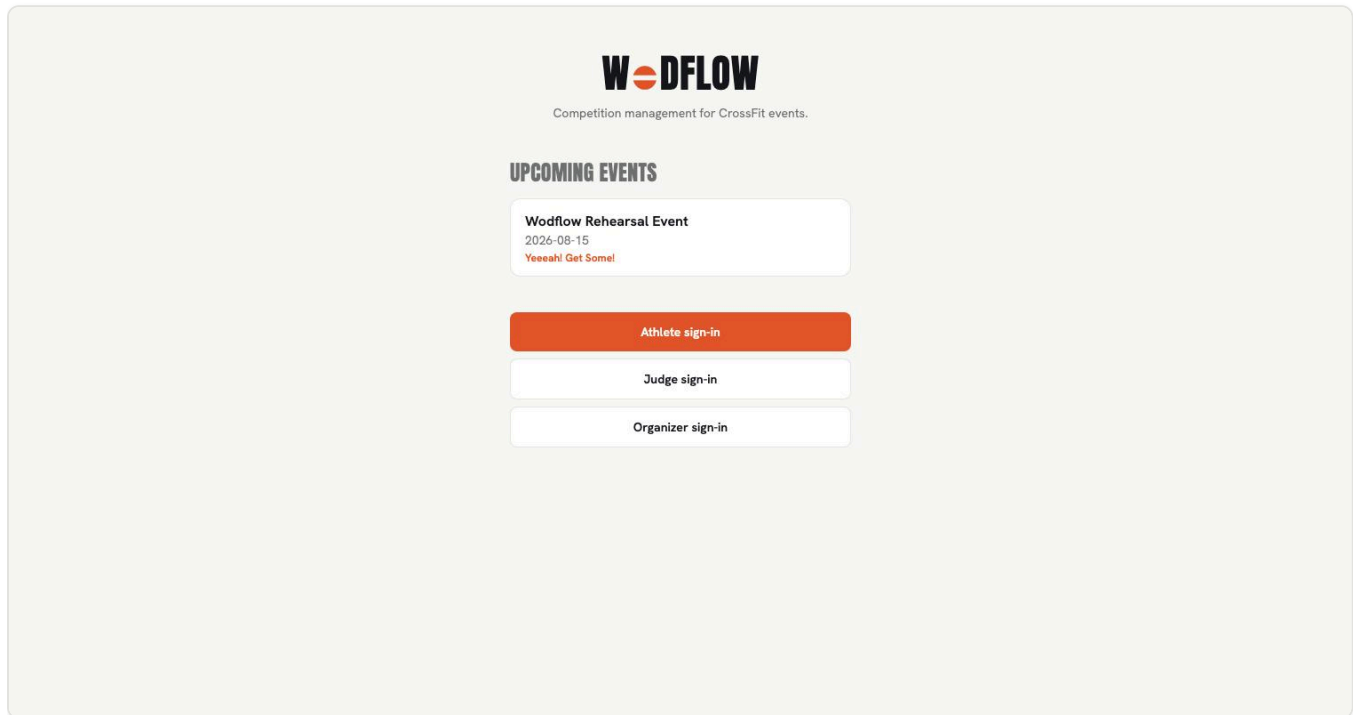

A note on this guide: every screenshot in this document was captured live from wodflow.co.za in a real browser session — nothing here is mocked up or simulated.

1. OVERVIEW

2. GETTING STARTED

THE HOMEPAGE

Every athlete's starting point. Shows all published/live events, each carrying its own brand kit colours and tagline. Athlete, Judge, and Organizer sign-in are all one tap away.

ORGANIZER SIGN-IN

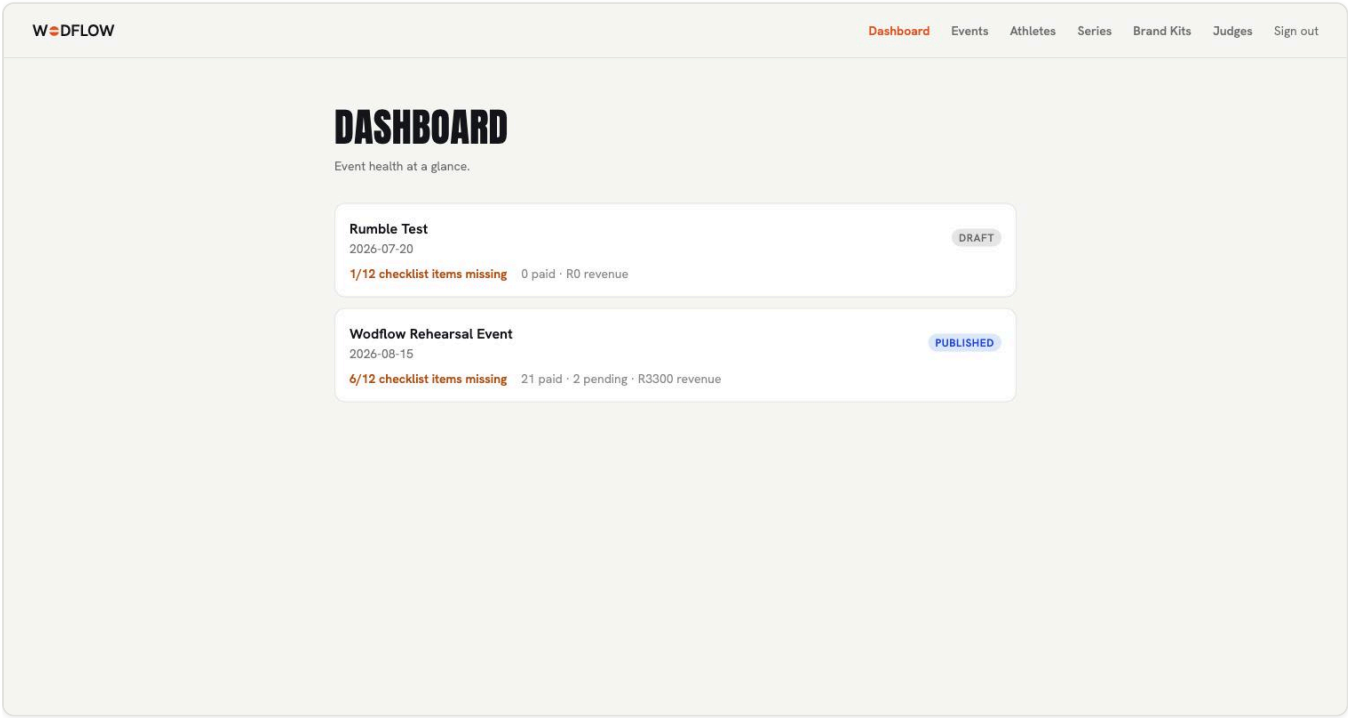

wodflow.co.za/login — sign in with your organizer email and password. This takes you straight to the Dashboard.

3. ORGANIZER – DASHBOARD

DASHBOARD: EVENT HEALTH AT A GLANCE

The very first thing you see after signing in. Every event you're running, its status (Draft/Published/Live), how many pre-event checklist items are still outstanding, and a live payment reconciliation summary (paid vs pending, total revenue) — no more clicking into every event just to check if it's ready.

4. ORGANIZER – EVENTS

EVENTS LIST

Create new events, publish/unpublish them, and assign a Brand Kit to each one right from this list. An event's status controls whether athletes can see and register for it on the homepage.

SCORING MODEL & WAIVER TEXT

Scroll down on the checklist page to find two critical settings: the Scoring model (Centralized — only the Head Judge enters scores, or Distributed — every judge scores their own heats), and the full waiver/indemnity text shown to every athlete at registration. Editing this later never changes what past athletes already agreed to — their signature snapshots the exact wording at the moment they signed.

5. ORGANIZER – BRAND KITS

BRAND KITS

Create once, reuse every year. Each kit carries a name, logo, tagline, and three brand colours. Assign a kit to an event from the Events list and it automatically re-skins that event's registration page, indemnity page, leaderboard, and homepage card — Rumble Indy, Rumble Remix, and Rumble "The Big One" can each have their own identity without touching a line of code.

6. ORGANIZER – DIVISIONS & SCORING FORMULA

DIVISIONS

Each division (Individual, Mixed Pairs, etc.) gets its own team size, pricing, lane count, and — new — its own points formula. Choose "Rank sum" (today's default, entrants minus position plus one) or "Gap formula" — the 100-points-with-a-shrinking-gap model, exactly as described: winner scores 100, and every place down loses a fixed gap of 100 divided by the number of entrants, rounded.

7. ORGANIZER – WORKOUT / SCORESHEET BUILDER

BUILDING A WORKOUT

Define a workout's time cap, scoring type, and whether a tiebreak applies — then add each movement with its RX and Scaled rep or load scheme, and how many rounds. The cumulative rep-reference table (the same "/03 /08 /16..." numbers printed on paper scoresheets) is generated automatically underneath, giving the Head Judge a quick-tally guide during scoring without anyone having to work it out by hand.

JUDGE SIGN-IN

wodflow.co.za/judge-login — every judge (and the Head Judge) picks their name from a searchable list. Head Judges are clearly labelled.

The screenshot shows the Wodflow Judge Sign-in interface. At the top center is the Wodflow logo, consisting of the word "WODFLOW" in a bold, sans-serif font, with a stylized orange and black circular icon between the "O" and "D". Below the logo, the text "Judge sign-in" is displayed in a smaller font. The main content area is a white rounded rectangle with a subtle drop shadow. Inside this rectangle, the heading "WHO'S JUDGING?" is centered at the top. Below the heading is a search bar with the placeholder text "Search your name...". Underneath the search bar are two buttons: "Rehearsal Judge" and "Tjokkie HEAD JUDGE". The "HEAD JUDGE" text is highlighted in orange.

PIN ENTRY
